

ABSTRACT:

The invention relates to a network comprising a plurality of switches which are combined to respective sub-networks and coupled to fixed terminals or, via base stations, to mobile terminals. Each switch comprises for the connection setup from a terminal to a mobile terminal at least a table which contains an assignment of the home address of a
5 mobile terminal to its visitor's address and to the sub-network of the switch assigned to the mobile terminal.

Fig. 1

10015046-1-1001